FOREWORD

The NICS comprises nine departments that support the Northern Ireland Executive and Ministers. We do this by developing and implementing government policies and legislation and delivering key public services in areas such as health, public finances, social development, justice, education, regeneration, environment, culture, agriculture, economic development, employment and transport. In addition, the Public Prosecution Service is a non-Ministerial Department staffed by civil servants.

To find more information on the government arrangements in Northern Ireland, including the functions of the departments click here.

All civil servants are appointed on merit and on the basis of fair and open competition. They are expected to carry out their role with dedication and a commitment to the NI Civil Service's core values: integrity, honesty, objectivity and impartiality.

The Deputy Principal (DP) roles outlined in this booklet are demanding but rewarding too. They are key middle management positions that offer something special: the opportunity to make a real difference to the lives of people in Northern Ireland.

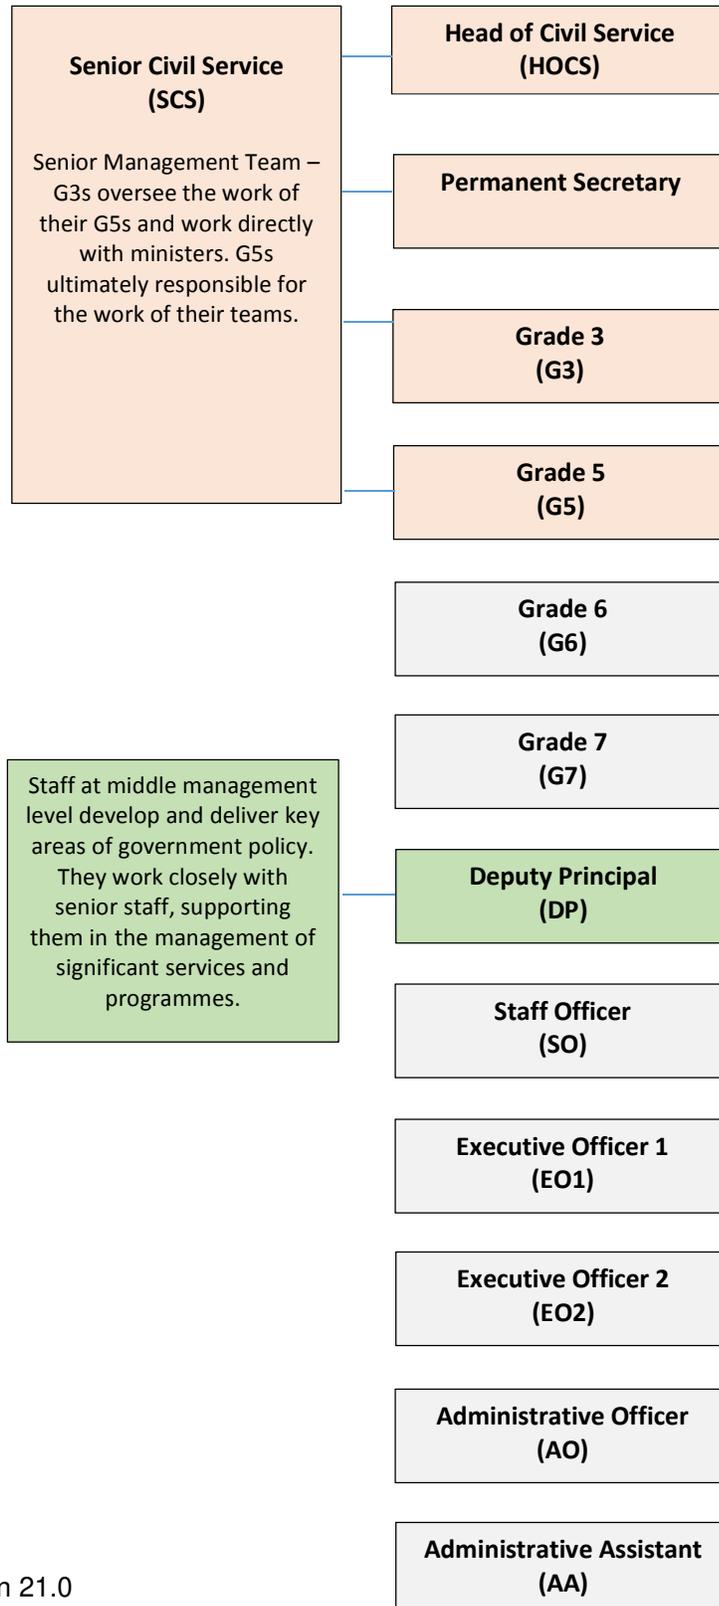

As a middle manager in the NICS you will play an important part in delivering our business objectives and contributing to the success of our overarching purpose to develop and implement policies and help deliver services to the public. The NICS delivers across many major areas of life here: health and education, economic success and peaceful communities. As one of the largest employers in Northern Ireland, we want to ensure that the NICS is inclusive and representative of the people we serve.

This booklet provides further information on the key responsibilities of middle managers at DP Grade in the NICS and sets out the skills and competencies required. We have also included important information on the selection process.

If you have any questions, please refer to the ‘How Do I Apply?’ section of the NICS recruitment website or contact HRConnect on 0800 1 300 330.

ORGANISATION CHART

The NICS has a hierarchical grade structure. The chart below highlights the DP position in the grade structure.

TYPICAL KEY RESPONSIBILITIES OF A DEPUTY PRINCIPAL IN THE NICS

While not an exhaustive or prescriptive list of responsibilities, an indication of the main duties of the DP grade in the NICS is provided below. The emphasis on particular duties will vary depending on departmental business priorities and needs.

The working environment can be fast-paced and there are often competing priorities with urgent tasks requiring completion within challenging timescales.

These roles will give you the opportunity to develop and enhance your competence in a number of core areas.

1. Manage an area of operational delivery

- Lead on defining and implementing a significant area of a Department's services. You'll assume responsibility for delivery goals, guiding and supporting team leaders in the management of their own teams. Alongside the management of teams and resources, you'll often have to develop an expertise in the interpretation and application of the rules and procedures relevant to your working area to enable you to direct the work of your teams and advise staff and colleagues. You will also be required to manage resources in order to successfully deliver a Department's services within a constantly evolving context and within extremely tight reporting deadlines.

2. Contribute to development and delivery of policy through research and analysis

- Lead in developing important guidance on Departmental practices or drafting government legislation. You will often work with a high level of autonomy in conducting research, analysing information, identifying a way forward and drafting key documents.

3. Contacts and Communications

- Provide excellent advice and guidance to senior staff across the NICS on complex issues, both in person and in writing, in an uncertain, rapidly evolving and timepressured environment.
- Develop and maintain key relationships with policy and legislation-makers in the NICS.
- Work directly and strengthen links with a wide range of stakeholders on cross-cutting issues.

- Build and maintain key relationships with senior colleagues in the NICS and others, which may include Whitehall, Dublin and other devolved administrations. There will also be a requirement to engage with institutions in academia, businesses and trade bodies.

4. Project/Programme Management

DPs may manage important projects, often being the contract manager to one or more external organisations that have been commissioned to provide goods or services to the government.

This can involve:

- Defining the project requirements, evaluating bids, monitoring the work and liaising with senior external stakeholders.
- Providing a clear but sensitive lead to the way the contract is conducted, identifying opportunities and addressing shortcomings.
- Lead in the resolution of complex issues arising through the project's lifetime, drawing on existing precedents where available, whilst demonstrating innovative and creative problem-solving skills.

5. Decision-making

You will be required to:

- Simultaneously work with quantitative and qualitative information to produce technical analysis.
- Take major decisions on the analysis of policy and legislation and development of a legislative programme with significant implications for different parts of the organisation. • Make decisions and set the strategic direction for a team in an uncertain and rapidly changing environment. • Assimilate, interpret and analyse information that is often conflicting and unfamiliar.

Disability Requirements and Reasonable Adjustment Requests

We wish to ensure that all applicants have the opportunity to perform to the best of their ability. If you require any form of reasonable adjustment to complete any assessments outlined, please note this in the box provided on your application form. You should include details of your disability and the specific adjustment you need. Candidates will be required to provide relevant evidence to support their request for a reasonable adjustment – for example, an Occupational Psychologist report, GP's medical statement, etc. Evidence to support your request, should be sent to HRConnect at recruitment@hrconnect.nigov.net as soon as possible following submission of your application.

Please mark your correspondence with the relevant competition reference number(s) and title it 'Supporting evidence for reasonable adjustment request'.

Please note you may be contacted directly to discuss your requirements.

It is essential that special arrangements concerning any adjustment requests are made in advance of starting the live test as retrospective arrangements cannot be made after you have started the live test. The familiarisation materials can be accessed and can help inform your decision as to the need for a reasonable adjustment. Further information can be found on the NICS Recruitment website – Information for Disabled Applicants.

If you were a candidate for the 2022 Staff Officer competition (IRC275969) you may, if you wish, keep any reasonable adjustment agreed for that competition rather than going through the process of agreeing a reasonable adjustment anew.

SELECTION PROCESS

There are three stages to the Selection Process:

1. Online assessment tests
2. A sift on eligibility criteria
3. Interview (with Presentation)

1. Online Assessment Tests

This is the first stage of the selection process. Candidates will have to achieve a minimum score in each test and then the top performing candidates will progress to Eligibility Sift.

The online aptitude test will consist of 3 tests, each lasting 40 minutes:

1. Critical thinking - you will be presented with passages of text and you will be asked to answer questions relating to these passages.
2. Analysing information – you will be presented with numerical data in various formats and your task will be to answer questions relating to this data.
3. Management Decisions - you will be presented with a number of scenarios representing the types of situation that a Deputy Principal in the NICS might encounter. Your task will be to rate the appropriateness of various responses to these scenarios.

You do not need to complete all three tests at the same time or even on the same day. Individual tests do however need to be taken in a single sitting therefore you should ensure that when completing each test that you have sufficient time for the test itself plus additional time for reading and understanding the relevant instructions for each test.

All three tests use multiple-choice answers.

HRConnect will invite applicants to test. Applicants will receive an email containing a link to the online test facility; this email will be sent from HRConnect. It is anticipated that this email will be issued to you on Friday 27 May 2022. Please check your email and junk mail folders during this time to ensure you receive the email. The email you receive will include full instructions on how to complete the online tests and you will have from Friday 27 May 2022 until 5pm on Friday 10 June 2022 to verify your identity, study the familiarisation material and complete the online tests. Unfortunately, we cannot offer any other dates for these tests.

The Online Assessments will be proctored. Proctoring means that your identity will be verified before starting the assessment and you will be monitored via your webcam during the assessment.

To allow you to complete the online test and be proctored, you will need a computer with a reliable internet connection and a working webcam. Your computer will also need to have an up-to-date Chrome or Microsoft Edge browser. If you are using a Mac, you MUST use Chrome.

Once you have accessed the test site you MUST do the following before you can take the live tests – and you need to do these things well in advance of taking the live tests.

- 1. Verify your identity
- 2. Check your webcam
- 3. Study the Familiarisation material

It is ESSENTIAL that you use the online familiarisation materials to check that the browser and internet connection you intend to take the live test on are compatible with the online tests. Note that some network firewalls may block access to the test site or prevent images from showing. If you can complete the Verification of ID process, your Webcam check is successful and the Familiarisation material works well on your IT equipment, this is a good indication that the live tests will work also. It is ESSENTIAL that you access the Familiarisation materials using the computer and internet connection that you intend to take the live test on well in advance of the tests.

To verify your identity you will need a valid photo ID (Passport, driving license and electoral card are acceptable). Once you receive the link, using a webcam you will need to take a photo of your photo ID and also a photo of yourself. You will be asked to enter your email after taking the photos so that we can inform you of the verification by email. You will receive an email from ProctorSupport@assessmentintelligence.com within 24 hours confirming that your identity has been verified. You cannot take the live tests until you have successfully verified your ID.

We advise you to submit your webcam images as soon as possible. You should have submitted your images for identity verification by 12pm midday on 1 June 2022, otherwise we cannot guarantee that the identity verification process will be completed in time for you to take the live tests before the final deadline.

IMPORTANT – if the name on your photo ID will differ significantly from your name on your application, you MUST inform HR Connect by emailing Recruitment@hrconnect.nigov.net including your Candidate Reference Number and 'IRC277837' in the subject line. Your email should explain the reason and include any supporting document (e.g. marriage certificate). Under no circumstances send any images or documents to the 'support' email.

Please note, it is your responsibility to ensure that you submit your images online in good time.

It is important that you read your invite letter as soon as you get it. It is also important you access the test site as soon as you can, so you have plenty of time to resolve any technical issues and complete the tests ahead of the deadline.

There is important information on completing the verification of your identity and on checking your computer and network on the test site. For further information on how we process this information, NICSHR's Privacy Notice is available via the link: NICSHR Privacy Notice - Online Assessments

For best results, we recommend the online assessment is completed in a test-like environment. Any possible distractions should be turned off, for example mobile phones, TV, music etc. Concentration is needed throughout the assessment, so if you are completing it at home or work, ensure other people are aware they should not disturb you until you are finished. No responsibility can be accepted for any issues arising from where you choose to sit the tests.

Eligibility Sift

Top test performers will progress to this stage in the first instance.

This selection stage is an assessment of the evidence provided in your application form against the eligibility criteria. Successful candidates at sift will progress to the interview stage.

Additional candidates who passed the first stage online assessment test may be progressed through the eligibility sift to interview stage as required during the lifetime of this competition.

Guaranteed Interview Scheme

As part of our commitment to the employment of disabled people, we operate a Guaranteed Interview Scheme (GIS). The GIS does not guarantee a job. However, its objective is to ensure a guaranteed number of disabled applicants, who meet the minimum essential eligibility criteria for the role they have applied for, are offered an interview. Further information on the GIS can be found on the NICS Recruitment website – Information for Disabled Applicants.

In assessing whether applicants meet the minimum essential eligibility criteria, they are required to undertake a test/assessment. All applicants must achieve the required minimum score in order to be invited to interview. Should a large number of candidates achieve the required score, we may limit the overall numbers of interviews offered and those applicants who demonstrate they best meet the minimum essential eligibility criteria for the job (i.e. the highest scoring) will be invited to interview. In this scenario, we will take positive action to ensure that the number of GIS applicants invited to interview will be in proportion to those who pass the test /assessment.

Interview Stage

The interview stage will consist of a presentation and interview conducted remotely using online video conferencing tool Webex. Further guidance for online interviews can be found on the NICS Recruitment Website.

Interviews will take place on weeks commencing 5 September 2022, 12 September 2022 and 19 September 2022.

Requests to reschedule will only be considered in very exceptional circumstances. If you decide to withdraw from the competition please inform HR Connect as soon as possible – recruitment@hrconnect.nigov.net.

Presentation

Candidates will be required to make a presentation relevant to the responsibilities of the post lasting no longer than 7 minutes, the title of which will be provided to candidates in the invitation to interview letter. The panel will also ask follow up questions after the presentation.

Applicants should fully prepare their presentation in advance of the interview as no preparation time will be provided on the day of interview.

Applicants may use speaking notes if desired to deliver the presentation. No other visual aids or handouts are permitted.

Interview

The interview will be competency-based. You will be asked to give examples of when you have demonstrated the competencies being assessed.

The interview will assess the following six competencies:

1. Making Effective Decisions

This area is about being objective, using sound judgement, evidence and knowledge to provide accurate, expert and professional advice. It means showing clarity of thought, setting priorities, analysing and using evidence to evaluate options before arriving at well-reasoned, justifiable decisions.

2. Changing and Improving

People who are effective in this area are responsive, innovative and seek out opportunities to create effective change. It is about being open to change, suggesting ideas for improvements to the way things are done, and working in 'smarter', more focused ways.

3. Leading and Communicating

At all levels, effectiveness in this area is about leading from the front and communicating with clarity, conviction and enthusiasm. It is about supporting principles of fairness of opportunity for all and a dedication to a diverse range of citizens.

4. Collaborating and Partnering

People skilled in this area create and maintain positive, professional and trusting working relationships with a wide range of people inside and outside the NICS to help to achieve business objectives and goals. At all levels, it requires working collaboratively, sharing information and building supportive, responsive relationships with colleagues and stakeholders, whilst having the confidence to challenge assumptions.

5. Deliver value for money

Delivering value for money involves the efficient, effective and economic use of taxpayers' money in the delivery of public services. It means seeking out and implementing solutions which achieve a good mix of quality and effectiveness for the least outlay, thus reducing the risk of fraud and error. People who do this well base their decisions on evidenced information and follow agreed processes and policies, challenging these appropriately where they appear to prevent good value for money.

6. Managing a quality service

Effectiveness in this area means being organised to deliver service objectives and striving to improve the quality of service, taking account of diverse customer needs and requirements. People who are effective plan, organise and manage their time and activities to deliver a high quality and efficient service, applying programme and project management approaches appropriately and effectively to support service delivery.

The presentation will be assessing four of these competencies:

- Changing and Improving
- Leading and Communicating
- Collaborating and Partnering
- Managing a Quality Service

It is important that you familiarise yourself with the Northern Ireland Civil Service competency framework, as this forms the basis of the assessment process. The competency framework sets out how all NICS employees should work.

It puts the Civil Service values of integrity, honesty, objectivity and impartiality at the heart of everything they do, and it aligns to the three high-level leadership behaviours that every civil servant needs to model as appropriate to their role and level of responsibility:

- Set Direction
- Engage People
- Deliver Results

Competencies are the skills, knowledge and behaviours that lead to successful performance. The framework outlines ten competencies, which are grouped into three clusters. The competencies are intended to be discrete and cumulative, with each level building on the levels below.

In other words, a person demonstrating a competency at level 3, as referred to in the competency framework, should be demonstrating levels 1 and 2 as a matter of course.

Candidates should refer to the effective behaviours at level 3 in preparing for their interview/presentation.

Merit List

Candidates who meet the required standard(s) and pass mark for the Interview Stage will be deemed suitable for appointment and will be placed on a list in order of merit, with the highest scoring candidate ranked first. NICS will allocate candidates to vacancies in the order listed.

It is intended that the order of merit will remain active for a period of 2 years. However, there is a possibility, although remote, that circumstances may arise where it will be necessary to extend the list for a further period. This will only occur where practical reasons for doing so arise.
