BACKGROUND

The Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (DAERA) has responsibility for food, farming, environmental, fisheries, forestry and sustainability policy and the development of the rural sector in Northern Ireland. The Department assists the sustainable development of the agri-food, environmental, fishing and forestry sectors of the Northern Ireland economy, having regard for the needs of the consumers, the protection of human, animal and plant health, the welfare of animals and the conservation and enhancement of the environment.

DAERA provides a Knowledge Advisory Service for farmers and growers and a Veterinary Service for administration of animal health and welfare. The Department's College of Agriculture, Food and Rural Enterprise (CAFRE) delivers training and further and higher education courses in the agri-food sector. DAERA is responsible to the Department of the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (DEFRA) in Great Britain for the administration of schemes affecting the whole of the United Kingdom. The Department also oversees the application of European Union agricultural, environmental, fisheries and rural development policy to Northern Ireland.

DAERA has responsibility for environment, the Green Growth agenda and climate change, food, farming, fisheries, marine, forestry, rural development and sustainability policy. The Department supports the development of thriving rural communities; the conservation and enhancement of the environment; the sustainable development of a £5 billion agri-food industry, having regard for the needs of the consumers, the protection of human, animal and plant health and the welfare of animals; the development of the fisheries sector; and the development of our forested land. Given the importance of the EU exit agenda to these sectors and activities, DAERA is at the centre of the transition arrangements.

The Permanent Secretary of DAERA is Dr Denis McMahon.

FOOD AND FARMING GROUP

Food and Farming Group (FFG) is responsible for the following high-profile DAERA wide programmes and initiatives:

The College of Agriculture, Food and Rural Enterprise

CAFRE is a Division within the Food and Farming Group in DAERA with campuses at Enniskillen, Greenmount (Antrim) and Loughry (Cookstown).

The College provides education, knowledge transfer and innovation programmes to the Northern Ireland agriculture, food, horticulture, equine and rural enterprise sectors. This is achieved through the delivery of:

- Further and Higher Education Programmes;
- Knowledge Transfer and Innovation Schemes
- Knowledge and Technology Transfer;
- Benchmarking; and
- Industry Training.

CAFRE provides education and training programmes as well as business development, knowledge and technology transfer functions. CAFRE has an annual budget of approximately £23m (excluding capital) and 410 staff located at its three campuses and in DAERA offices across Northern Ireland.

A further key role for CAFRE is the provision of technical support to DAERA and other Government Departments. Details of each aspect of work are set out below:

Further and Higher Education programmes

The current portfolio of full-time and part-time courses offered by CAFRE includes:

- Level 2 through to Honours Degree in Agriculture, (including Land-based Engineering at Level 3).
- Level 2 through to Honours Degree in Equine Studies.
- Level 2 through to Honours Degree in Food Technology, Food Innovation & Nutrition and Food Business Management.
- Level 2 through to Honours Degree in Horticulture.
- Levels 2 and 3 in Veterinary Nursing.
- Postgraduate courses in Business for Agri-Food and Rural Enterprise.

Knowledge Transfer and Innovation Schemes

CAFRE has responsibility for the development and delivery of the Knowledge Transfer and innovation elements of the Farm Business Improvement Scheme, which is funded under the RDP. Four knowledge transfer programmes are being delivered, namely Business Development Groups, Farm Family Key Skills, Farm Innovation Visits and Technology Demonstration Farms. Within the Business Development Groups scheme 3,000 farmers and growers work together in groups using a peer-learning approach to enhance their technical knowledge and business planning skills. Through the Farm Family Key Skills scheme, over 15,000 participants will have the opportunity to improve their skills in key areas of farm business management, such as Health and Safety, IT, Animal Health and Business Planning. In addition the Farm Innovation Visits scheme gives farmers the opportunity to visit farms outside Northern Ireland and to view first-hand innovative technologies and working practices that have the potential for adoption on their own farms. The Technology Demonstration Farms scheme aims to establish a network of demonstration farms across Northern Ireland through which over 5,000 participants will receive training, to support the adoption of new technologies by agriculture and horticulture businesses. CAFRE also has responsibility for the delivery of the European Innovation Partnership scheme, which aims to minimise barriers to innovative actions, by streamlining and simplifying the research and innovation chain, at farm or business level through partnership and cooperation.

Knowledge and Technology Transfer

Knowledge and technology transfer equips those working in the agri-food industry with the knowledge, skills and experience to adopt appropriate technologies and systems within their businesses from which economic, environmental, health and safety and animal welfare benefits will accrue.

Benchmarking

CAFRE has developed a range of benchmarking tools for farmers and growers. These provide participants with a standard way of analysing performance data using on-line databases thus enabling them to compare their performance with other similar businesses. Based on this information and supported by CAFRE Advisers, they can set realistic targets and monitor the progress of their business.

Industry training

CAFRE industry training programmes are delivered to those already working in the agri-food industry and are offered in a wide range of subject areas including agriculture, equine, food, horticulture, and environmental protection.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

The primary role of the Equine Veterinary Lecturer (Grade III) is to interpret, analyse and present technical information to students and industry personnel in a form that meets their needs. - The development and delivery of veterinary science / health lectures, tutorials and practicals to students enrolled on further and higher equine education programmes.
- Devising assessments, marking assessments and providing feedback to students.

NICS COMPETENCY FRAMEWORK

The selection process will assess candidates against the NICS competency framework at level 3.

The NICS competency framework sets out how all NICS employees should work. It puts the Civil Service values of integrity, honesty, objectivity and impartiality at the heart of everything they do, and it aligns to the three high-level leadership behaviours that every civil servant needs to model as appropriate to their role and level of responsibility: Set Direction; Engage People and Deliver Results.

Competencies are the skills, knowledge and behaviours that lead to successful performance. The framework outlines ten competencies, which are grouped into three clusters. The competencies are intended to be discrete and cumulative, with each level building on the levels below i.e. a person demonstrating a competency at level 3 should be demonstrating levels 1 and 2 as a matter of course.

The Northern Ireland Civil Service competency framework can be accessed via www.nicsrecruitment.org.uk

It is important that all candidates familiarise themselves with the competency framework as this forms the basis of selection process. Should you require assistance in accessing the competency framework please contact HRConnect.

GUIDANCE FOR APPLICANTS

INTERVIEW PREPARATION

If this is your first experience of a competence-based interview, bear in mind that it does not require you to:

- Talk through previous jobs or appointments from start to finish;
- Provide generalised information as to your background and experience; or
- Provide information that is not specifically relevant to the competence the question is designed to test.

A competence-based interview does however require you to:

- Focus exclusively, in your responses, on your ability to fulfill the competences required for effective performance in the role; and
- Provide specific examples of your experience in relation to the required competence areas.

In preparation for the interview you may wish to think about having a clear structure for each of your examples, such as:

- Situation – briefly outline the situation;
- Task – what was your objective, what were you trying to achieve;
- Action – what did you actually do, what was your unique contribution;
- Result – what happened, what was the outcome, what did you learn.

The panel will ask you to provide specific examples from your past experience to demonstrate the range of behaviours associated with the competences being assessed. You should therefore come to the interview prepared to discuss in detail a range of examples which best illustrate your skills and abilities in each competence area. You may draw examples from any area of your work / life experiences.

For professional and technical posts, questions may be framed in the context of professional elements of the post.
