FOREWORD

The NICS is seeking to fill Scientific Officer roles that require specific skills and experience. Applications are invited from candidates who meet the eligibility criteria, to apply for this opportunity and challenge.

This booklet provides further information on the key responsibilities of the Scientific Officer role in the NICS and sets out the skills and competencies required. We have also included important information on the selection process.

There are currently 9 full time vacancies within Water Chemistry Group, Water Management Unit of the Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA) within the Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (DAERA). The current posts on offer will be based at Lisburn.

Further information on the business area where the current vacancies are located is provided in the booklet.

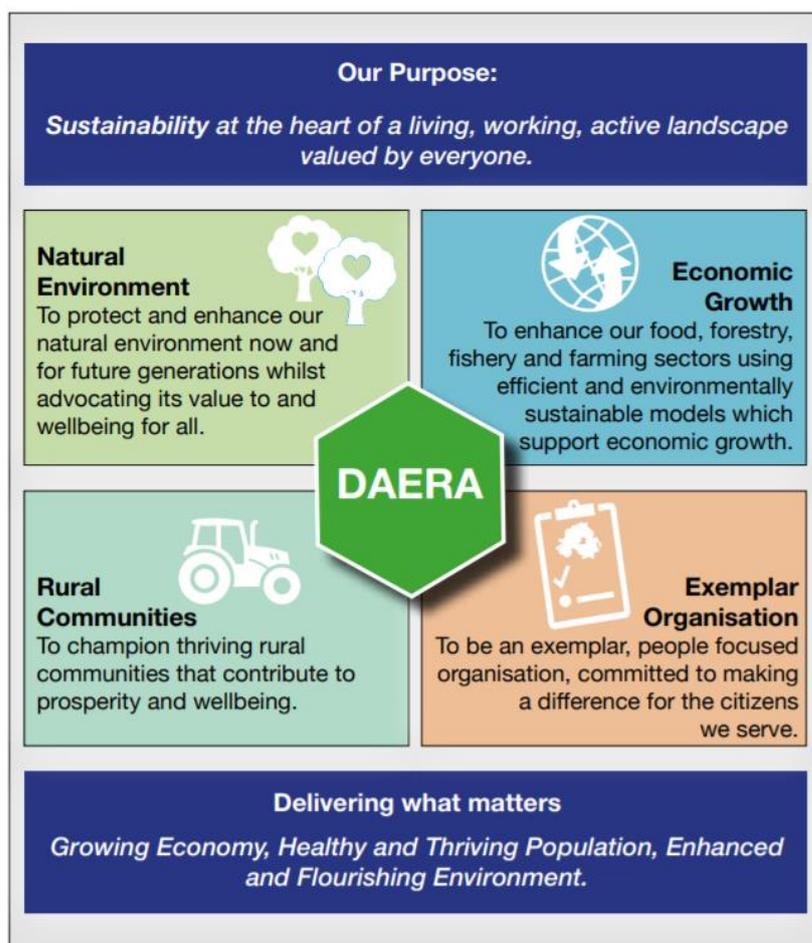

BACKGROUND

The Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs (DAERA) has responsibility for food, farming, environmental, fisheries, forestry and sustainability policy and the development of the rural sector in Northern Ireland. The Department assists the sustainable development of the agri-food, environmental, fishing and forestry sectors of the Northern Ireland economy, having regard for the needs of the consumers, the protection of human, animal and plant health, the welfare of animals and the conservation and enhancement of the environment.

DAERA provides a business development service for farmers and growers and a veterinary service for administration of animal health and welfare. The Department's College of Agriculture, Food and Rural Enterprise (CAFRE) delivers training and further and higher education courses in the agri-food sector. DAERA is responsible to the Department of the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (Defra) in Great Britain for the administration of schemes affecting the whole of the United Kingdom. The Department also oversees the application of European Union agricultural, environmental, fisheries and rural development policy to Northern Ireland.

DAERA has responsibility for environment, the Green Growth agenda and climate change, food, farming, fisheries, marine, forestry, rural development and sustainability policy. The Department supports the development of thriving rural communities; the conservation and enhancement of the environment; the sustainable development of a £5 billion agri-food industry, having regard for the needs of the consumers, the protection of human, animal and plant health and the welfare of animals; the development of the fisheries sector; and the development of our forested land. Given the importance of the EU exit agenda to these sectors and activities, DAERA is at the centre of the transition arrangements.

DAERA PURPOSE AND STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES

DAERA Top Management Group comprises:-

- Rural Affairs, Forest Service and Estates Transformation
- Central Services and Contingency Planning
- Veterinary Service Animal Health Group
- Environment Marine and Fisheries Group; and
- Food and Farming Group

DAERA has two Executive Agencies:

- Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA)
- Forest Service

The Department also sponsors a number of NDPBs including the Agri-food and Biosciences Institute (AFBI).

The Permanent Secretary of DAERA is Katrina Godfrey.

NORTHERN IRELAND ENVIRONMENT AGENCY

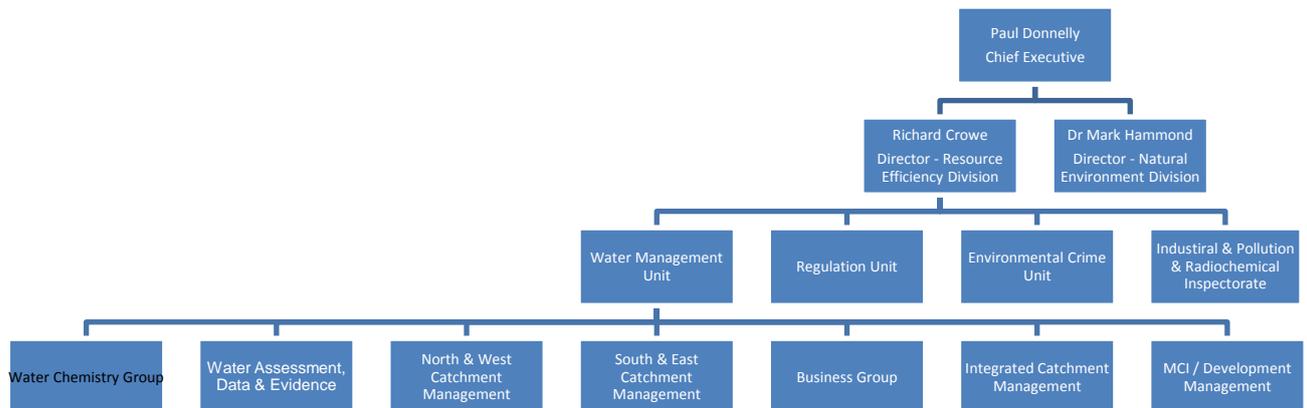

The Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA) is an Executive Agency within the DAERA. The NIEA has two Divisions – Resource Efficiency Division and Natural Environment Division.

The role of NIEA is to:

- Promote both public awareness of environmental issues and action to deal with them;
- Regulate adverse human impacts upon the environment;
- Work in partnership with others to protect the environment;
- Protect public health through regulation of drinking water quality;
- Provide financial support to others to encourage action to protect the environment;
- Manage our properties to promote public access to, and understanding of, the environment; and
- Advise Government and other key sectors on environmental issues.

NIEA has over 440 staff, the greater percentage being scientific and technical staff, at Belfast (headquarters), Lisburn and a number of regional locations.

Further information about NIEA can be obtained on the Internet at <https://www.daera-ni.gov.uk/northern-ireland-environment-agency>.

Resource Efficiency Division

The Resource Efficiency Division is the largest Division within the Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA). The Division is responsible for a diverse range of activities and seeks to safeguard the quality of the environment through effective regulation of activities that have the potential to impact on air, water and land. This involves engagement with businesses and the public to provide information and advice; monitoring, recording, reporting and setting standards for compliance; issuing consents, licences, permits and authorisations and enforcing legislation.

Water Management Unit (WMU)

The Water Management Unit (WMU), sits within Resource Efficiency Division. Under the Water (Northern Ireland) Order 1999 and Water Environment (Water Framework Directive) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2017, it has a duty to manage and promote the conservation of water resources in Northern Ireland and the quality and cleanliness of water both in waterways and underground.

In doing so, the NIEA must take into account the needs of industry and agriculture, the protection of fisheries, the protection of public health, the preservation of amenities, and the conservation of flora and fauna.

The WMU protects the aquatic environment through a number of activities including:

- monitoring water quality and quantity;
- providing evidence to inform water regulation activities;
- catchment management;
- taking action to combat or minimize the effects of pollution;
- supporting environmental research;

- coordinating the production of River Basin Management Plans with partners;
- enforcement;
- pollution prevention;
- agricultural regulation;
- development management.

Much of this work is guided by a complex mesh of international agreements, UK and NI domestic policy and legislation, which enshrines requirements previously covered in EU directives and regulations.

Water Chemistry Group

The Water Chemistry Group sits within the Water Management Unit of the Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA) and provides analytical services in the fulfilment of the Agency's obligations.

The Group's laboratories provide scientific data used by policy makers to implement environmental strategies designed to protect and improve Northern Ireland's aquatic environment.

Its laboratory analysis is incorporated in evidence used in the Agency's regulatory enforcement cases in relation to breaches of legislation including the Water (NI) Order 1999. Staff are required from time to time to provide expert witness advice in the event of prosecution proceedings.

The laboratories also deliver aquatic monitoring and assessment of Northern Ireland's surface waters and biota to an agreed plan, as well as carrying out investigative work and analysis relating to pollution cases.

The Group works across three analytical areas; inorganic, organic and metals analysis alongside support from the Sampling and Quality teams.

The Inorganic Team is responsible for the analysis of samples from rivers, lakes, estuaries and effluents for general pollution indicators such as BOD and COD. It also performs very low level nutrient analysis. In recent years the team has introduced new technology to automate more routine tests and operates a number of 'state of the art' auto-analyser instruments for the analysis of nutrients. The generation of data for pollution investigations is another important aspect of the work of the team and staff may be required to present their findings at court in prosecution cases.

The Metals team undertakes analysis of toxic metals which may be found in freshwater and marine environments. To achieve the necessary detection limits, use is made of complex analytical methodologies, including, Inductively Coupled Plasma Optical Emission Spectrometry (ICPOES), Inductively Coupled Plasma Mass Spectrometry (ICPMS) and Cold Vapour Atomic Fluorescence Spectroscopy (CVAFS).

The Organics Team carries out monitoring for organic contaminants, such as pesticides and industrial chemicals, in a wide range of samples relating to the freshwater and marine environments. To achieve the extremely low detection limits required by legislation, the team uses a wide range of complex analytical methodologies including gas chromatography (GC), gas chromatography/mass spectrometry (GCMS) and liquid chromatography/mass spectrometry (LCMS).

The Sampling Team performs field survey work to assess the properties and impacts of leachate from landfills and effluent discharges. This work involves the use of specialist techniques for sampling effluents, surface water and ground water in addition to monitoring procedures to assess effluent flow rates and volumes. The team works closely with the other Water Chemistry analytical teams.

The Quality Team manages the Quality System with a high value placed on the quality of data produced by the Water Chemistry Group. Water Management Unit's Quality System aims to ensure that all operations are compliant with the ISO 17025 standard. External proficiency schemes are used to provide an independent assessment of analytical performance. Compliance with the standard is continually assessed by a system of internal audits by trained assessors and independently by the United Kingdom Accreditation Service (UKAS).

Guaranteed Interview Scheme

Competition design allows for GIS – where shortlisting is used

As part of our commitment to the employment of disabled people, we operate a Guaranteed Interview Scheme (GIS). The GIS does not guarantee a job. However, its objective is to ensure disabled applicants, who meet the minimum essential eligibility criteria for the role they have applied for, are offered an interview. Further information on the GIS can be found at Information for Disabled Applicants

If you wish to apply under the GIS, you must declare this on your application form. Shortlisting criteria will not apply to GIS applicants.

If you do not wish to apply under the GIS, but do require us to make reasonable adjustments during the recruitment process, you should provide details on your application form. We will consider all requests for reasonable adjustments for any stage of this recruitment process. Details of any disability are only used for these purposes and do not form any part of the selection process.

If you have indicated on your application that you have a disability, are successful in the selection process and are being considered for appointment, you may be asked to outline any reasonable adjustments you consider necessary in order for you to take up an appointment. If you wish to discuss your disability requirements further, please contact HRConnect.

Please note:

- You should ensure that you provide evidence of your experience in your application form, giving length of experience, examples and dates as required.
- It is not sufficient to simply list your duties and responsibilities.
- The selection panel will not make assumptions from the title of the applicant's post or the nature of the organisation as to the skills and experience gained.
- If you do not provide sufficient detail, including the appropriate dates needed to meet the eligibility criteria, the selection panel will reject your application.
- The examples you provide should be concise and relevant to the criteria. This is very important as the examples which you provide may be explored at interview and you may need to be prepared to talk about these in detail if you are invited to interview. It is your unique role the panel are interested in, not that of your team or division.
- State clearly your personal involvement in any experience you quote. State "I" statements e.g. I planned meetings, I managed a budget, I prepared a presentation. It is how you actually carried out a piece of work that the panel will be interested in.
- ONLY the details provided by you in your application form (the employment history and eligibility criteria) will be provided to the selection panel for the purpose of determining your eligibility for the post. Please do not include your name in the employment history or eligibility criteria sections.
- The NICS Competency framework can be accessed via www.nicsrecruitment.org.uk

ASSESSMENT PROCESS

The selection process will consist of a competence based interview.

It is intended that interviews for this post will take place in Water Management Unit, NIEA, 17 Antrim Road, Lisburn during November 2022.

NICS COMPETENCY FRAMEWORK

The selection process will assess candidates against the NICS competency framework at level 2.

The NICS competency framework sets out how all NICS employees should work. It puts the Civil Service values of integrity, honesty, objectivity and impartiality at the heart of everything they do, and it aligns to the three high-level leadership behaviours that every civil servant needs to model as appropriate to their role and level of responsibility: Set Direction; Engage People and Deliver Results.

Competencies are the skills, knowledge and behaviours that lead to successful performance. The framework outlines ten competencies, which are grouped into three clusters. The competencies are intended to be discrete and cumulative, with each level building on the levels below i.e. a person demonstrating a competency at level 3 should be demonstrating levels 1 and 2 as a matter of course.

The Northern Ireland Civil Service competency framework can be accessed via www.nicsrecruitment.org.uk

It is important that all candidates familiarise themselves with the competency framework as this forms the basis of selection process. Should you require assistance in accessing the competency framework please contact HRConnect.

GUIDANCE FOR APPLICANTS

INTERVIEW PREPARATION

If this is your first experience of a competence-based interview, bear in mind that it does not require you to:

- Talk through previous jobs or appointments from start to finish;
- Provide generalised information as to your background and experience; or
- Provide information that is not specifically relevant to the competence the question is designed to test.

A competence-based interview does however require you to:

- Focus exclusively, in your responses, on your ability to fulfill the competences required for effective performance in the role; and
- Provide specific examples of your experience in relation to the required competence areas.

In preparation for the interview you may wish to think about having a clear structure for each of your examples, such as:

- Situation – briefly outline the situation;
- Task – what was your objective, what were you trying to achieve;
- Action – what did you actually do, what was your unique contribution;
- Result – what happened, what was the outcome, what did you learn.

The panel will ask you to provide specific examples from your past experience to demonstrate the range of behaviours associated with the competences being assessed. You should therefore come to the interview prepared to discuss in detail a range of examples which best illustrate your skills and abilities in each competence area. You may draw examples from any area of your work / life experiences.

For professional and technical posts, questions may be framed in the context of professional elements of the post.
